

ECO 1326 Homework Number One

Students should familiarize themselves with the Foundation for Economic Education (fee.org) and their posts (“stories”) about current and historic events from an economic perspective. You can also subscribe to the FEE daily email for posts, highly recommended as also serves as a timely and relevant news consolidator. Choose one FEE story to write a paragraph or two about.

Each essay should be about 200 words (the homework should include a word-count) and should address, 1) why did you choose this story to write about? and 2) what did you learn and how does this apply to economic history?

If the essay is on-time, one or two paragraphs about 200 words in length total with a word-count, and you address 1) and 2) then you will receive full credit for the assignment. Ideally you will submit the HW in hard-copy in-class on the day that it is due (so that I can mark it-up and return to you), but you can also send the HW to my hotmail account, entering “ECO 1326” in the subject line of the email.
