

Cameron M. Weber, PhD

637 41st Street, 4E, Brooklyn, NY 11232, USA

cameron_weber@hotmail.com

homepage: cameroneconomics.com

Short Biography, January 2023

Cameron Weber is an economist and historian and the host and producer of Hardfire TV, a political economy talk show on current events on Brooklyn Free Speech Media which streams through the BRIC Arts Media House. Cameron moved to New York City to study at the New School for Social Research where he helped to create the field of cultural economics in 2015. Dr. Weber is currently working on a monograph with two co-authors called Markets and Artists in Music: The Political Economy of Music During the Covid-Era and Beyond (Routledge 2023). Prior to doctoral studies Cameron was in the US Foreign Service and the chief of financial oversight at the US State Department.