

ECO 2309 Spring 2018 Homework Assignments

Homework One (5% of class grade):

Go to the Foundation for Economic Education website (FEE.org) and choose one “story” to write about related to money and banking. The essay should be around 400 words (use a word-count application and indicate the number of words on the homework, which is to be submitted in hardcopy by the due-date, January 30, 2018). State why you are interested in the topic you have chosen, how it adds to your understanding of money and banking, and tie it to related material we have discussed in class.

Homework Two (10% of class grade):

Write a approximately 750 word essay (show a word count) as to whether or not you believe the Fed is effective. Define by what you mean as effective, then the criteria you are using to make a determination. You should use at least two academic sources, one of which can be from class lectures or the Mishkin text. Due April 10, 2018.
